— FERTILITY —

CONSENT TO MICROCHIP

I hereby give permission to all Elite Kennel Fertility to implant a microchip in to my animal/s.

I have been informed that my records will be held on a microchipping database and that they will only be used for the reunification of animals and for compliance with the Microchipping of Dogs 2015 Legislation and that it is my legal responsibility to keep the records up to date whilst is own the above stated animal/s.

In the case of a litter of puppies being microchipped I understand that it is a legal requirement that they are registered in the first instance to myself the breeder, before the new keeper.

To implant a microchip it must be injected between the shoulder blades under the skin of the animal.

I have been advised by Elite Kennel Fertility that I must:

- Restrict vigorous exercise for at least 4-6 hours after being microchipped
- Leave the site of microchipping alone for 12-24 hours (no scruffing or petting the areas)
- Apply no harnesses, collars or perform any sort of grooming or bathing for at least 12-24 hours after microchipping

I have been informed and understand that:

- The skin of the animal may bleed due to the potential catching of a capillary under the skin. The implanter will endeavor to stop the bleeding immediately after chipping but no further cleaning of the area should be done for 12-24 hours after microchipping
- By following the advice given it will reduce the chance of infection, however if the site has an adverse reaction I will seek veterinary advice
- Migration of the microchip may occur depending on the activities in the hours after implantation
- In the case of a litter, it has been highly recommended to check the chips are still in place before leaving to their new homes either at time of vaccination at a vets or at another appointment at Elite Kennel Fertility to ensure the correct paperwork is sent with the animal
